About HumanitiesDC:

Washington, DC, is a vibrant city rich in history, full of curious minds asking bold questions and sharing powerful stories. These narratives help us navigate the complexities of our past, present, and future. Through history, literature, language, religion, philosophy, and ethics, the humanities guide us in learning from our experiences, empathizing with different perspectives, and challenging our assumptions. Through storytelling and research, the humanities are a compass for interpreting what humans make and exploring what makes us human. Since 1980, HumanitiesDC has been one of 56 state councils supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities, dedicated to making the humanities accessible to all. Through HumanitiesDC community grants and public programs, we celebrate, elevate, and connect the voices that bring our city to life.

Staff Contact: Hillary Steen, Community Grants Manager, grants@humanitiesdc.org, 202.770.3077 x812

Applicant Eligibility:

Applicants must adhere to BOTH major requirements for this grant:

1. Applicants must propose a continuation of an existing or previous DC Oral History Collaborative/Oral History Interviewing grant that was closed out successfully. Projects that were originally funded between 2017 and 2025 are allowed to continue. Applicants can be DC-based individuals, community groups, or 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations. Community groups must designate an individual to be the primary point of contact for the grant application and grant agreement. Fiscal sponsorships are allowed for all applicants who are eligible to apply (see Fiscal Sponsorship and Eligibility Requirements sections for more details). And,
2. At least one project team member completed the full Oral History 101+ Workshop that all new DCOHC grantees must attend at the beginning of the project period. The team member may have joined this workshop in any previous year between 2017 and 2025.

Summary of Grant Opportunity:

Help us preserve the unique stories of Washington, DC residents! This grant opportunity funds former DCOHC/Oral History Interviewing grantees to continue working on their successfully completed oral history projects. Funds awarded under this program are for expenses associated with collecting additional oral history interviews and producing the required final products that are formally archived in the DC Public Library.

Potential projects may focus on neighborhoods, social organizations, political history, labor, faith-based groups, cultural trends, historic events, or other themes that lend themselves to oral history as a tool for research and preservation. Projects must continue to be thematically focused on Washington, DC and have a theme, focus, or research question that applicants aim to illuminate.

This opportunity is part of the Humanities Grant Program supported with funding from the District of Columbia Government through the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities. This is also part of the DC Oral History Collaborative, a partnership between HumanitiesDC and the DC Public Library.

About the DC Oral History Collaborative:

The DC Oral History Collaborative (DCOHC) is a partnership between HumanitiesDC and the DC Public Library. It documents, preserves, and celebrates the lived experiences of all Washington, DC residents and communities through oral history. The Collaborative accomplishes this by providing training, mentorship, resources, programs, and funding to current and aspiring oral historians. Interviews that are conducted as a result of this grant are archived in the People's Archive at the DC Public Library.

Interest Area:

The interest area is the core of a DCOHC project. As you may remember, this is the research question or topic you hope to explore through the interviews you conduct. Interest areas go beyond just an interest in a historical topic. They are ways to fill in gaps of understanding, explore existing knowledge from a new angle, or even reassess history. Applicants may directly copy their interest area from their previous application, or they may lightly edit what they previously wrote.

Funding Scope:

Successful Continuing Oral History Projects proposals:

- Clearly describe the project's original research question, theme, and/or scope; how the original project will be extended; and how the project's continuation will contribute to that research question, theme, and/or scope. Please note that the reviewers may be unaware of your original project.
- Support collection of oral history interviews for an on-going oral history project that was previously funded by HumanitiesDC.
- Identify at least five new narrators to be interviewed during the grant period. Grantees typically end up interviewing between 5-10 people.
- Demonstrate a deep understanding of the subject matter and a connectedness to relevant communities that will lend itself to recruiting and actively engaging narrators.

- Do not request funding for major public projects such as events, podcasts, or films. Grantees may budget a small portion of funds to host a small, semi-private event to share the collected interviews with narrators and their community, but most of the funds must go towards collecting and archiving interviews. See below for more allowable and unallowable costs.

Grantee Requirements and Deliverables:

- Interviewing at least 5 people over the 8-month project period.
- Providing deliverables that are necessary for the DC Public Library archives, including an audio or video file of the interview recording, transcripts, indexes, release forms, and metadata. The release form will assign copyright of the oral history interviews to the DC Public Library, but the narrator will retain non-exclusive rights to copy, use, and publish their oral history in part or in full during their lifetime.

Translation Enhancement Funds:

Applicants may request an enhancement of up to $5,000 to translate oral history transcripts. The People's Archive only accepts English language oral history transcripts, so interviews that need to be translated into English have priority for these funds. However, applicants may also request the enhancement to translate English transcripts into a language that makes them more accessible to the narrators' communities. A request for a translation enhancement will neither negatively nor positively affect the competitiveness of an applicant's overall proposal. Acceptance of an applicant's proposal does not guarantee the acceptance of the applicant's request for a translation enhancement. HumanitiesDC does not provide recommendations for translators or translating companies. Translation enhancement funds can only be used for translation purposes.

Weighted Review Criteria:

Applications are reviewed and scored based on the criteria below. The review process is explained in the Application Review Process section of this RFP.

- Project Description and Timeline - 40%
The interest area is focused and specific about what the applicant hopes to learn from narrators' memories and reflections on the past. The applicant clearly describes why they want to conduct and archive additional interviews. The timeline is within the grant period and feasible.
- Contribution to DC History - 15%
The applicant demonstrates the importance of capturing these preserved stories for future researchers, residents, and the general public. The research topic might be hyperlocal or small in scope, but the interviews provide important human context to the history of DC and its residents.
- Community Collaboration - 25%
The applicant demonstrates how the project would be strengthened through collaboration and community involvement. A recruitment plan for finding narrators is explained.
- Capacity and Personnel - 10%
The Project Director demonstrates their motivation to carry the project to completion. This may be displayed through past experiences, connection to the community of inquiry, any research already completed, or other demonstrated passion for the topic area. If other team members and collaborators are identified, their involvement is clearly explained. An individual's role in different aspects of the project's planning, development, and/or implementation is explained.

- Budget - 10%

The applicant clearly describes how funds will be used, and all expenses are directly tied to the proposed project activities. Budgeted expenses are allowable. (Unallowable expenses include an organization's general operation expenses, food and beverages, tuition and scholarships, debt reduction, re-granting or sub-granting, costs related to fundraisers or lobbying, funding to foreign or domestic government agencies, and any other expenses unrelated to the direct execution of the project.) If the applicant is using a fiscal sponsor: no more than 10% of the grant can go to the fiscal sponsor.

Eligibility Requirements:

Please direct questions or concerns about eligibility requirements to the staff contact listed on page 1. This grant opportunity funds former DC Oral History Collaborative/Oral History Interviewing grantees to continue collecting and archiving oral history interviews for their successfully completed oral history projects. Eligible applicants must include at least one team member who completed a 3-part spring oral history training workshop for grantees. This grant does not support newly devised oral history projects; funding is intended to support collection of new oral history interviews for an ongoing project. This grant also does not support public projects that are based on oral history interviews, such as films or podcasts.

 - District of Columbia Department of Employment Services (DOES)
 - United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS)
- Agree that by signing the conditions document and accepting the funds, they will comply with: (a) Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (which provides that grant recipients must take adequate steps to ensure that people with limited English proficiency receive the language assistance necessary to afford them meaningful access to grant-related programs, activities and services); (b) Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (which prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, or national origin); (c) Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex); (d) Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973; (e) the Americans with Disabilities Act (which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disabilities); (f) the Age Discrimination Act of 1973 (which prohibits discrimination against those 40 years or older); (g) the Labor Standards under Sections 5i and 7g of the National Foundation of the Arts and Humanities Act of 1965; and (h) the regulations issued pursuant thereto by the National Endowment for the Humanities (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 45, Chapter XI).”

All applicants (organizations and individuals) applying for these grant opportunities must:

- Obtain a certification of “Citywide Clean Hands” from the District of Columbia Office of Tax and Revenue. Applicants are encouraged to review the requirements before applying to ensure they can get this certificate. If an applicant is chosen for funding, they must submit the certification alongside the Grant Agreement Form. The certification must be dated no more than 30 days before it is submitted, and must be submitted to HumanitiesDC within 2 weeks of their award notification.
- Not appear on the DC Government’s Excluded Parties List per the DC Office of Contracting and Procurement.
- Be in good standing with HumanitiesDC
 - Note: a HumanitiesDC grantee that has failed to comply with HumanitiesDC policies (e.g., grant reporting) may not be in “good standing” and may be ineligible to receive additional funds.
- Be able to provide proof of eligibility at any time during the grant period. Any awardees found ineligible after the award date must return all grant funds to HumanitiesDC.
- Submit the application through our grants portal.

Prohibited applicants include private clubs and organizations that prohibit membership based upon race, gender, color, religion, or any other classes identified in the District of Columbia Human Rights Act; for-profit (commercial) entities; political organizations; foreign governments; federal government entities; and District of Columbia government agencies.

Note on Submitting Multiple Applications:

Eligible applicants may apply to both the Continuing Oral History Projects grant and the General Operating Support grant. If chosen for funding for both opportunities, you may choose to accept both. If you were chosen for funding in Cycle I in 2026, you are ineligible to apply for Continuing Oral History Projects.

For Current HumanitiesDC Grantees:

Current grantees may apply for 2026 funding even if they have not yet closed out an open grant. However, if they are approved for 2026 grant funding, any open grants must be fully closed out and the grantee must remain in good standing before any new funds are distributed (interim and final reports submitted and approved, project has been completed, and all funds are spent or returned to HumanitiesDC). HumanitiesDC reserves the right to subtract any unspent or unaccounted for 2025 grant spending from new grant distribution.

Fiscal Sponsorship:

A fiscal sponsor is a non-profit organization that assumes financial and legal obligations for an individual or organization. In the case of HumanitiesDC's community grants, individuals and community groups without 501(c)3 non-profit status are eligible for the Continuing Oral History Projects grant and are not required to apply through a fiscal sponsor.

Fiscal sponsors must be registered in DC and may support no more than three HumanitiesDC grants at a time. Applicants applying through fiscal sponsors must use the fiscal sponsor's organization account within the HumanitiesDC grants portal to submit their application. If the fiscal sponsor does not have an account, an authorized official from the fiscal sponsor organization must create one. HumanitiesDC will work primarily with the team conducting the project. However, because fiscal sponsor organizations have fiduciary and financial responsibility for their supported grants, it will be necessary for representatives from the fiscal sponsor to review and sign off on funding applications, financial documents, and grant agreements. No more than 10% of the grant award may be used to pay a fiscal sponsor.

Please note that the sponsored organization/individual must meet all eligibility requirements noted in this RFP - except for the 501(c)(3) requirement. For example, sponsored entities must be located in DC and cannot owe taxes to the DC government.

Allowable Expenses:

100% of awarded grant funds must be applied to direct program costs related to collecting and archiving oral history interviews. This may include salary, consulting fees, honoraria/stipends, recording equipment/platforms, transcription services, space and equipment necessary to complete the project, and any other project or program-related expenses. Grantees will be allowed to update their budgets during the project period, and more guidance will be provided.

Unallowable expenses include an organization's general operation expenses, food and beverages, tuition and scholarships, debt reduction, re-granting or sub-granting, costs related to fundraisers or lobbying, funding to foreign or domestic government agencies, and any other expenses unrelated to the direct execution of the project. Grantees will be required to document - through materials such as receipts, paid invoices, credit card or bank statements, payroll reports, and cancelled checks - all expenses paid with HumanitiesDC funds in their final reports.

Cash Match Requirement:

There is no matching requirement for this grant program. However, if the proposed activities cost more than the amount requested, applicants will be asked to describe other secured/planned funding sources in the application that will enable the proposed project to be completed.

ADA Compliance:

All organizational applicants must comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. The ADA provides civil rights protection to individuals with disabilities in the areas of employment, services rendered by state and local government, places of public accommodation, transportation, and telecommunication services. Organizations funded by HumanitiesDC must make reasonable accommodations to ensure that people with disabilities have equal physical and communications access, as defined by federal law.

Applicant organizations with 15 or more full time employees must provide the following information in their application to demonstrate compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) (42 U.S.C § § 12101 et seq.):

1. The process of formulating accessibility plans (e.g., creating an accessibility advisory committee, board and staff disability-rights training, budgeting for reasonable accommodation requests, etc.).
2. The current progress/status of an organization's physical accessibility. If the location is not barrier-free, include in the grant application a plan for project/program modification that ensures access in a barrier-free environment, when needed.
3. The current progress/status of the organization's accessibility in presenting activities – communications access (e.g., TDD, large print or Braille materials, audio description or assistive listening devices, interpreted performances, etc.) and marketing/advertising.

For more information, applicants may access the complete text of the ADA here:

<https://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/text/42/12101>. Note that neither HumanitiesDC nor the District of Columbia government represent that this link leads to the latest version of the subject law.

Accessibility:

We ask all applicants – even those who are not required to provide the information noted in the above ADA Compliance section – to demonstrate how grant-funded programming and services will be inclusive, diverse, equitable, and accessible throughout DC. Successful applications will consider a broad definition of “accessibility”, such as financial, geographic, demographic, cultural, and/or developmental access.

Technical Assistance for Applicants:

HumanitiesDC hosted general information sessions about all grant opportunities, and you may find a recorded session and slides on our website. We also hold workshops specific to each grant program. Virtual sessions are recorded and available on our website, and in-person sessions occurred throughout DC. One-on-one office hours with staff are available. Applicants may also submit draft applications for review by staff. Details can be found in the Community Grants section of our website.

How to Apply:

HumanitiesDC grant applications are accepted via our online grants portal, which can be accessed at this link. Applications must be successfully submitted by 5:59 pm on the day of the deadline.

If you or your organization have applied for a HumanitiesDC grant before, please DO NOT create a new account. Instead, log into the grants portal with your existing account, with your email address serving as your username. Please contact the Grants Manager listed above if you need help accessing your account. More detailed instructions about the grants portal are found on our website.

HumanitiesDC will consider reasonable accommodation requests from applicants with disabilities to assist them in submitting grant applications via mail, email, or hand delivery. This request must be made at least 10 business days before the application deadline. To make a request for reasonable accommodation, please contact the Grants Manager identified at the beginning of this document.

Applicants will receive a confirmation email when their proposals are successfully submitted. Applicants should contact the applicable HumanitiesDC staff member immediately should they encounter any technical issues or if they do not receive a confirmation email. Incomplete or late applications - or applications failing to meet the guidelines or eligibility requirements - will not be considered for funding.

Application Review Process:

- HumanitiesDC staff review all submitted applications for eligibility. Ineligible applicants are notified immediately and are allowed to appeal our decision.
- Eligible applications are reviewed by community members who have experience in humanities programming and/or scholarship in DC and understand the role that HumanitiesDC plays in the city. Reviewers are trained by HumanitiesDC staff. They read and evaluate their assigned applications and convene for a group discussion. They then finalize their comments and individual scores, which are collated and averaged. Applications are funded based on the average scores they receive.
- Everyone involved in the review process is expected to remain impartial. HumanitiesDC requires that reviewers recuse themselves from the review of any application that presents a personal or professional conflict of interest.
- If you, or someone you know, are interested in being a grant reviewer, please review the information on our website to learn how to apply. You may be both an applicant and a grant reviewer, but you will not review applications for the same grant program you apply to.

Notification and Payment of Awards:

HumanitiesDC will notify applicants of their status (approved or denied) approximately ten weeks after the application deadline. Grant awards are approved and certified in the grants portal and via DocuSign. Awards are disbursed via direct deposit within a month after the acceptance form is correctly submitted. The full grant is typically awarded at the beginning of the grant period. If funding is not available at the beginning of the grant period, grants might be awarded in installments. Denied applicants may request a summary of grant reviewer comments.

HumanitiesDC reserves the right to change or rescind grant opportunities if we do not receive sufficient funds and/or if other unexpected situations occur. HumanitiesDC may accept or deny all applications submitted for funding if that is determined to be in the best interest of the organization.

Grant Award Terms:

1. See Grantee Requirements and Deliverables section above
2. Grantees take on all financial and legal obligations of the grant award.
3. Grantees agree to document all grant expenditures.
4. Any changes to the scope, budget (greater than 25% in any one budget category), or project period must be requested in writing in advance.
5. Grantees are required to submit an interim report as described below. Failure to complete this report on time may result in intervention on the part of HumanitiesDC up to and including a request to return disbursed funds.
6. Grantees are required to submit a final report as described below. Failure to do so satisfactorily might affect eligibility for future grants.
7. To receive the grant award, approved applicants must sign and submit a Grant Agreement Form that constitutes a legally binding contract between HumanitiesDC and the applicant's

Required Reports and Deliverables:

The required final reports are submitted through the grants portal. Grants managers will review reports and provide feedback within 60 days.

- The interim report will be due November 15, 2026. This report includes an explanation of funds spent and a brief overview of progress to date. Additional check-in meetings may be scheduled for later in the project period.
- The final report will be due on April 30, 2027, which is 30 days after the end of the grant period. This report includes an explanation of funds spent, documentation of all expenditures, and a project evaluation.
- All oral history-specific deliverables are due on April 30, 2027 as well.

Close Out:

Grants are successfully closed when HumanitiesDC grant managers determine all grant requirements have been met, interim and final reports have been successfully completed, and all grant funds have been spent or returned to HumanitiesDC. Failure to achieve a successful grant closeout may result in loss of eligibility for future HumanitiesDC grants.
